REPORT NO.

1. The Brezice railroad station, two kilometers north of the center of Brezice on the Ljubljana-Zagreb railroad line, is equipped with two main railroad tracks and four railroad sidings. Electric switches are installed at both ends of the station building which measures 750 x 20 meters. Opposite the station is a military warehouse and shipping ramp. Here, 10 to 15 freight cars are loaded per day with timber for export to Great Britain, Italy, and Switzerland, and wine for export to Great Britain, Switzerland, Austria, and the Netherlands. In addition, five to six railroad cars of gasoline and Diesel oil are unloaded daily for transfer to the Cerklje airfield. Transit shipments of ore from Serbia and Croatia enroute to Austria, Hungary, and Switzerland, four express trains, 12 passenger trains, and 18 freight trains pass through the Brezice railroad station daily. This station is said to handle shipping business valued at about 30,000 dinars per day.
